

Surge protection devices

Surge Protection for your entire home

With the cost of replacing valuable equipment running into the thousands of dollars, prevention is better than a cure. Your home contains a large range of these devices such as a TV, home theatre, hi-fi system, computer, gaming console, dishwasher, washing machine and a microwave. All of which are susceptible to electrical spikes and surges. Surge protection devices installed in your switchboard protect your valuable equipment at the source.

:hager